UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA

Associate Vice Chancellor &
Chief Human Resources Officer

THE ORGANIZATION

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, DAVIS

Few institutions can match the comprehensive excellence of UC Davis. The campus is recognized for its superb accomplishments across its entire academic spectrum. There are two campuses associated with UC Davis: the main campus, located in Northern California in the city of Davis, while the medical center, School of Medicine, and the Betty Irene Moore School of Nursing are located on the UC Davis Health campus in Sacramento, California. Home to 25,000 faculty and staff, as of Fall 2021 the Davis campus' enrollment was 41,000+ students, the annual operating budget was $6.2 billion, and the 10-year capital plan exceeded $2.9 billion. In February 2022, UC Davis broke ground on the first phase of Aggie Square, a transformational public-private partnership innovation project on the Sacramento campus. UC Davis and the City of Davis can boast of a strong “town-gown” relationship, having partnered most recently through Healthy Davis Together to create a model for pandemic response and ensure the health of their shared community.

An ethos of partnership and service, in addition to its proximity to California's state government, have made the University an invaluable resource for policy makers and state agencies, and home to several state and federal research facilities as well as a nationally known performing arts center. Since its founding in 1908, UC Davis has grown from the University Farm of the University of California into the largest of the ten University of California campuses and a powerful comprehensive research university with unparalleled disciplinary breadth over its ten schools and colleges. With its commitment to academic excellence and scholarship in service to the public good, UC Davis is uniquely positioned to be an international leader in addressing the most pressing problems facing humanity over the coming years.

Known for its commitment to sustainability, exceptional academics, welcoming atmosphere, and its position as part of the world's pre-eminent public university system, UC Davis is proud of its nationally ranked resources and research used to tackle the most pressing issues facing the world today. UC Davis' educators, clinicians, and researchers include partners working in the nation's best School of Veterinary Medicine, the nation's best College of Agricultural and Environmental Sciences, and one of the nation's premier Colleges of Biological Sciences and Colleges of Engineering - all from within one of the top five Best Public Universities in the entire United States. Combining its own advantages with the resources and prestige of the ten-campus University of California system, UC Davis is a community that provides exceptional support for world-changing research and education.

UC Davis strives to build a community of change-makers and problem solvers committed to creating a place where people from all walks of life and backgrounds can learn, grow, and discover together. The 5,300-acre campus borders the City of Davis, a vibrant college town of about 68,000 people living in Yolo County. It offers a high-quality environment for faculty and staff members and their families. The University's community of faculty and staff are dispersed throughout the state, nation, and the world with a mission to advance the human condition through improving the quality of life for all. The state capital is 20 minutes away, and world-class destinations such as the San Francisco Bay Area, Lake Tahoe, and the Napa Valley are within a two-hour drive.

UC Davis Principles of Community

UC Davis is a diverse community comprised of individuals having many perspectives and identities. We come from a multitude of backgrounds and experiences, with distinct needs and goals. We recognize that to create an inclusive and intellectually vibrant community, we must understand and value both our individual differences and our common ground. The UC Davis Principles of Community is an aspirational statement that embodies this commitment, and reflects the ideals we seek to uphold.

Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion at UC Davis

Building capacity to do the work of diversity, equity, and inclusion at UC Davis has been a multi-year, multi-pronged process to assess and understand the opportunities. The appointment of the first UC Davis Vice Chancellor for Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion reflects the importance of this work and the desire to sustain the momentum that has been built to date. The Vice Chancellor oversees the Office of Diversity, Equity and Inclusion (VC-DEI), comprising four units: Office Campus Community Relations (OCCR); Office of Academic Diversity; the Office of Diversity and Inclusion, Davis Campus (UCD-ODI); and UC Davis Health's Office for Equity, Diversity and Inclusion (UCDH-OEDI). Affiliated units include the Office for Student and Resident Diversity (OSRD) and the UC Davis Center for Reducing Health Disparities (CRHD).

UC Davis Land Acknowledgement

For thousands of years, this land has been the home of Patwin people. Today, there are three federally recognized Patwin tribes: Cachil DeHe Band of Wintun Indians of the Colusa Indian Community, Kletsel Dehe Wintun Nation, and Yocha Dehe Wintun Nation.

The Patwin people have remained committed to the stewardship of this land over many centuries. It has been cherished and protected, as elders have instructed the young through generations. We are honored and grateful to be here today on their traditional lands.

UC DAVIS HUMAN RESOURCES

We all want a world that is healthier, sustainable, safer, and more enjoyable. UC Davis is helping us get there by striving to always put people first. As a top-ranked research university, and the second-largest employer in the region, it's no wonder our employees are leading the way in teaching, research, public service, and patient care.

Mission

We promote excellence in people by delivering innovative HR programs and strategies to support UC Davis.

Vision

We are a model HR organization that inspires all people to reach their full potential where their contributions and discoveries advance our world-class university.

Values

- Excellence as the standard for measuring the quality, timeliness, and consistency for our service.
- Integrity at the core of all we do to provide service that is trustworthy, reliable, and fair.
- Compassion in our service to faculty, staff, and students who have committed to building a better world.
- Diversity to advance an inclusive and respectful culture.

The Office of Human Resources at UC Davis includes the following services and teams: Academic and Staff Assistance Program (ASAP); Benefits; Compensation; Disability Management Services; Employee and Labor Relations; HR Business Partners; Learning & Development; Organizational Excellence; Records (UC Davis Health); Shared Services Organization; Talent Acquisition; Workforce Strategies; and WorkLife. More information on UC Davis Human Resources can be found at UC Davis Human Resources.

REPORTING RELATIONSHIPS

Reports to (direct): Vice Chancellor, Finance, Operations and Administration (VC-FOA)

Reports to (dotted line): Vice Chancellor, Human Health Sciences and CEO, UC Davis Health

Direct reports:

- Deputy CHRO, UC Davis Health
- Director, Executive Programs and Recruitment
- Director, Organizational Excellence
- Executive Director, Employee & Labor Relations
- Executive Director, Workforce Strategies
- Executive Director, Talent & Rewards
- Executive Director, Shared Services Organization
- Executive Analyst

Note: Support for academic personnel is largely provided by the Office of the Vice Provost – Academic Affairs. The primary scope of services for the AVC/CHRO focuses on staff and non-academic students; in some service areas, such as benefits, central HR provides services to all university employees.

As an integral member of the leadership team, the Associate Vice Chancellor & Chief Human Resources Officer (AVC/CHRO) supports the University by working collaboratively with leadership, management, faculty, and staff across UC DAVIS, the UC Office of the President, and key external constituents. The AVC/CHRO leads a team focused on enhancing the University's ability to achieve its people objectives and sustain a culture that sees people as the University's greatest strength. Central to this role is the need to ensure a workplace that prioritizes respect, positive relations, diversity, equity, inclusion, wellbeing, and the University's mission.

The AVC/CHRO provides strategic leadership to the Department of Human Resources for the UC Davis campus, including UC Davis Health, as well as leadership and guidance for the broader human resource professional community. As a member of the VC-FOA Leadership team, the AVC/CHRO leads the Human Resources team to plan, implement, evaluate, and improve organization-wide programs and services that further develop a culture of “One HR” across the university’s Davis and Sacramento campuses. The role oversees a broad range of functions including talent acquisition, talent management, organizational excellence, employee and labor relations, performance management, compensation, classification, shared services, rewards and recognition, investigations (HS only), workforce strategies/HRIS, Academic and Staff Assistance Programs (ASAP), and disability management. A trusted strategic advisor on all HR matters across the University’s two campuses, the AVC/CHRO will regularly provide discerning advice and counsel to key leaders including the Chancellor, Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost, Deans, VCs, and AVCs.

THE OPPORTUNITY

The Associate Vice Chancellor and Chief Human Resources Officer (AVC/CHRO) will play a key role in fostering UC Davis’s inclusive community and organizational culture and advancing the goals of its strategic plan, To Boldly Go. Reporting to the Vice Chancellor, Finance, Operations and Administration, the AVC/CHRO will lead and motivate a distributed HR team of ~250 engaged in planning, implementing, evaluating, and improving organization-wide programs and services including talent acquisition, talent management, organizational effectiveness, employee and labor relations, performance management, compensation, classification, shared services, rewards and recognition, investigations, Academic and Staff Assistance Programs (ASAP), and disability management.

With the HR team, the AVC/CHRO will work collaboratively to support the organization’s mission, enhance its culture, and innovatively shape the post-pandemic work environment. The AVC/CHRO will build trusting and effective working relationships at all levels across UC Davis, and lead complex, collaborative initiatives, developing and applying progressive HR practices that motivate excellence while building organizational effectiveness and employee engagement.

A sterling communicator, champion of DEI, and empowering leader, the AVC/CHRO will have at least ten years of experience in a complex, multidisciplinary, unionized organization. A strategic, innovative, and solutions-focused leader, the AVC/CHRO will be approachable and engaging, with well-developed communication and problem-solving skills, and a record of attracting, coaching, and developing high-performing talent. Knowledgeable of Federal, State, and local employment laws, the AVC/CHRO will ideally have experience in higher education and/or healthcare environments, and an advanced degree or equivalent experience in human resources, business administration, or a related field. This is an opportunity to develop a strategic, innovative, and responsive HR function that supports the transformative power of a UC Davis education.

CONTEXT

The global pandemic has irrevocably changed the work environment at UC Davis and at all workplaces. HR leaders are responding creatively to the changing post-pandemic work environment and its impacts on recruitment and retention, employee and labor relations, diversity, equity, and inclusion, and wellness, among others. At UC Davis, several recently completed campus surveys - still in the discovery phase - are expected to identify some key areas on which to focus. To respond to emerging needs and to continue to evolve the HR function will require change agility, the ability to question established processes, and a holistic and innovative approach that includes regular, transparent communication. This leadership role requires an understanding of / ability to work effectively within higher education as well as healthcare, respecting the differences between those two environments, while also identifying opportunities to improve processes and coalesce people policies across UC Davis's two campuses.

The AVC/CHRO contributes to strategic and operational plans for UC Davis, and also participates at the systemwide level as a member of the University of California's HR leadership team, contributing to HR strategy and planning, providing perspectives, and advocating, as required, on behalf of UC Davis. The AVC/CHRO will lead a team of approximately 250 people. A strategic, innovative, and solutions-focused leader, the AVC/CHRO will be approachable and accessible, fair and equitable, and consultative while also able to make and uphold considered decisions.

LOCATION: Davis / Sacramento, CA

UC Davis has two campuses. One is located immediately within the city of Davis, a vibrant college town in Yolo County, in the northern part of California's Central Valley, one of the world's most productive farming regions. Davis is noted for its desirable quality of life, its community-oriented atmosphere, and its plentiful parks and open spaces, as well as for its innovation in all aspects of community life as a leader in fostering and implementing non-traditional approaches to traditional problems. An environmentally aware and socially innovative city, Davis boasts more than 50 miles of bicycle paths and more bicycles per capita than any other city in the nation.

Fifteen miles east, in Sacramento, is the UC Davis Health campus, including the world-renowned UC Davis Medical Center. California's capital city has a population of nearly 500,000 and is the core cultural and economic center of the Sacramento metropolitan area, which includes seven counties with an estimated population of more than 2.5 million. A city of neighborhoods and tree-lined streets, Sacramento has more than 200 public parks. Recreational opportunities abound along the 32-mile American River Parkway, which runs from downtown to the historic Folsom suburb. Rich with history and culture, Sacramento is also one of the country's most diverse cities. As the national Farm to Fork capital, the city has attracted top chefs to its numerous restaurants.

The broader Sacramento region is home to a thriving and engaged business community, fueled by UC Davis and eager to partner and give back. The San Francisco Bay Area, Lake Tahoe, Napa Valley, Silicon Valley, and the Pacific Coast are all located within a two-hour drive. The nearest major airport is the Sacramento International Airport; there is also a commuter airport located on the UC Davis campus - the only one in the UC system. With a mild Mediterranean climate, the region enjoys an average of 265 days of sunshine a year.
